

Perfume bottles?

Perfume bottles are a beautiful and energetic part of your collection. They are not only functional but also decorative. The bottles shown in the image are made of faceted glass and come in various colors: red, green, and blue. Each bottle has a matching faceted stopper and a decorative band around the middle. The bottles are arranged in two pairs, with the red and blue bottles on the left and the green and blue bottles on the right. The blue bottles have a gold-colored band around the middle. The bottles are set against a plain white background.
